

VAC Interesting News

A tribute to....Ingvar Sodal

Ingvar Sodal was born in Norway and was raised in a rural farming community near Trondheim, 350 miles north of Oslo. He started dancing in his teens and has been involved with Scandinavian folk dancing ever since. In his early 20s, he became a Certified Folk Dance Teacher in Norway and a member of the National Board of Folk Dancing. As a certified instructor, Ingvar taught folk dancing at all levels in Norway.

In 1962, Ingvar moved to Colorado to study at the University of Colorado in Boulder and soon became an active instructor in Scandinavian folk dancing for the Boulder International Folk Dancers. He was the founder and leader of a performing group, the Boulder Scandinavian Dancers. Ingvar has taught at many camps and workshops throughout the United States and has brought many Norwegian dance and music groups to perform at events in the U.S.

Professionally, Ingvar is a bioengineer. He was a director of the Bioengineering Group at the University of Colorado Medical Center involved in medical research, spent four years on the faculty of Ohio State University, and had his own company in Boulder making scientific instruments. He has published widely - both folkdance and scientific articles.

Ingvar is a Colorado Mountain Club (CMC) legend. In the 1960's he gave a huge boost to popularizing cross country skiing in Colorado by importing ski touring equipment from Norway, by starting the CMC cross country ski school, and by operating Norsk Ltd. selling cross country ski equipment. He helped to lay out and build many beautiful ski trails and taught many people to cross country ski. He spearheaded the building of the new CMC Arestua or Guinn Mountain Hut. Many skiers and racers can thank Ingvar for his enthusiastic push in promoting a new type of winter pleasure.

As many of us know, Ingvar Sodal's role in Boulder's vibrant dance community has been priceless. He was one of the original members of the Village Arts Coalition, an umbrella organization, established in 1989 that now supports 33 dance groups providing insurance and creating dance space. Ingvar initiated the creation of an investor group to purchase the Pearl Street Studio, which has become a permanent home for many local dance groups. After an exhausting and costly search for larger space for the dance community, Ingvar, and a small group of dancers, established the Avalon; finally the Boulder dance community can enjoy its own large ballroom with a first class dance floor.

In his leadership on the VAC Board for many years, the dance community's gratitude to Ingvar is immeasurable. His vision and dedicated involvement in the trials of establishing two facilities for dancing in Boulder have been a shining and remarkable light for all involved. He is the affirmation that commitment and endless volunteer work can be a satisfying challenge that subsequently creates warm social bonds – all starting with the love of dancing and music. Although he has retired from the VAC Board, Ingvar is still a glowing example to all. By devoting unaccountable hours to the welfare of the dance community, it is time for us to express our gratitude and say, "There is only one Ingvar. Thank you, Ingvar."

The non-profit organization Colorado Friends of Cajun-Zydeco Music and Dance and the Mercury Cafe will ring in the New Year crawfish style with an evening of ultimate zydeco featuring Curley Taylor and Zydeco Trouble on January 3, 2009 as they rumble through the Rocky Mountains.

Born and raised along the Bayou Teche in Louisiana, Curley Taylor has been around zydeco all of his life. He made his professional debut at age 16 as the drummer in his father's band, the venerable Jude Taylor & His Burning Flames, who were known for their old school Louisiana blues, soul and zydeco. By age 25, Taylor had played drums for many of South Louisiana's finest: CC Adcock, Steve Riley, 'Lil' Bob of Lil Bob and the Lollipops ("Last Night I Got Loaded"), and uncles 'Lil Buck' Senegal and Wayne 'Blue' Burns. He did several tours with CJ Chenier, son of zydeco pioneer Clifton Chenier, when he began playing the accordion and discovered a natural kinship with the instrument. Without a doubt, Curley Taylor and Zydeco Trouble are among Louisiana's most popular zydeco bands.

For more information, contact Dan Willging, 303-745-9577, dwillging@mho.net. The Colorado Friends of Cajun-Zydeco Music and Dance is a non-profit organization whose mission is to bring Louisiana French culture, music and dance to the Front Range.

CELTIC & ENGLISH

Colorado Morris now consists of three teams, all of which will start practicing again after the performance season is over, and that means that beginners are welcome. All three teams have danced at the International Festival. Particulars on the teams' practices are:

Maroon Bells Morris dances Cotswold and the occasional longsword dances. It is the longest-standing of the three and you've probably seen us in our whites and ribbons somewhere in the state. Practice is on Wednesdays 7:30-9:30 p.m. in Northglenn.

Breathless in Berthoud is a Border Morris team, the border referring to the one between England and Wales. If you've seen dancers in colorful tatty coats and hats, you've watched Border. Practice is on Thursdays from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in Berthoud.

The Tommyknockers were started in 2002 by children of adults on the Maroon Bells Morris team and have since expanded to any interested kids. No description of the kit is needed - you recognize them by their age. Practice is on an irregular basis in Louisville, so call Nancy at 303-665-9413for current details. Questions and requests for more information should be directed to Robin at 303-651-0909 or squire@maroonbellsmorris.org. Please also visit: www.maroonbellsmorris.org

Denver Ceili Club: Come do Irish aerobics in a social setting with Molly Bennett, instructor. Thurs. evenings at 7ish at the Friendship Irish Dance Center, 1944/1946 South Quebec St, Denver. Call 303-750-3510 for more info.

English Country Dance (sponsored by Colorado Friends of Old Time Music & Dance): Experience the Sense & Sensibility of English Country Dance to live music. All dances are taught and walked through; no partner or previous experience needed. Cost: $10 with a $2 discount for CFOOTMAD members. For more information: www.cfootmad.org or call 303-321-2262.
