then took Peter's place and taught with Nancy many more years. Then change came again when Nancy and Eric took a rest from many years of teaching and the Boulder Scandinavian Dancers performing group took on the task of running the weekly class and dance. After many years of input and effort by many group members, it came time for change again in the fall of 2006. The timing was right as Nancy, with the help of Larry Utter, was ready to resume teaching.

Nancy and Larry are still the current teachers. Both began Scandinavian dancing in the early 1980's. They were exposed to Scandinavian Dance, as many were and still are, through International Folk Dancing. They soon began dancing with the Boulder Scandinavian Dancers performing group.

Nancy continued to dance with Boulder Scandinavian Dancers for almost twenty years. During this time she was the group director several times, went to Sweden many more times, and became the third person in Colorado to receive their "Big Silver" medal. This is the highest level in the Swedish testing system for proving competence in Swedish dance.

Larry was more eclectic in his dance career. During the next 10 years, as well as performing with BSD, he performed Scottish dance and also square dancing with Calico and Boots. He was also the caller for C&B. In the early 90's he started a decade long break from dancing to concentrate on school, climbing Colorado mountains, and skiing. Since resuming dancing, he has earned the "Bronze" medal in Swedish dance, the first level of the Swedish dance testing system.

Today, in addition to running the Monday Night Scandinavian Dance and class, they perform with Watch your Step Vintage Dance Vignettes performing group.

MONDAY NIGHT SCANDINAVIAN DANCE

The Monday Night Scandinavian Dance group began 21 years ago in 1988. It actually began on Sunday afternoons with friends getting together to practice dances and learn from one another. Since there had not been a weekly Scandinavian Dance class for several years, Nancy Ellinghaus and Peter Strong began a Monday night class.

In the beginning there was little open dancing and most of the night was spent on teaching.

Peter taught with Nancy for many years before moving back to his native England. (He has recently returned and it is wonderful to have him back in the group) Eric Meyer
